Offered for sale at 39.500 euro, this must be the cheapest classic Aston Martin actually on the planet !

Maybe this super sports car needs quite some work, but I am absolutely convinced it is a rewarding project.

This DB6 with chassis n° DB6/2405/R could in the hands of a dedicated enthusiast return to former glory or, even better, become an exciting historic race car.

Good chassis, excellent aluminium outer skin, steel substructure needing some work here and there, properly running engine, auto gearbox, axles & differential, suspension, steering, interior, etc... All major components still available with the car but also some minor ones missing. Comes with original chassis plate and heritage certificate. Until now not known in lists of AMOC.

Your chance to own a proper classic Aston Martin at a give-away price of 39.500 euro.
